The Theodore Roosevelt International Highway runs from Portland, Maine, to Portland, Orgeon, across the Northern section of the United States, and through a part of Southern Canada. It traverses in the East, not only the famous Sebago Lake and Long Lake Mountain country of Maine, but also the White Mountains of New Hampshire, the Green Mountains of Vermont, and the Adirondack Mountains of New York. It is built of the finest type of bituminous macadam construction. This is the section approaching the bridge over the Crooked Ri ver in Naples.

The Pepperell Sheet has as a definite aim the promotion of good will and better acquaintance in the great Pepperell family.

The Social and Athletic Club extend to the various fraternal orders, church societies and welfare groups the free use of its hall for socials, dances and displays.

As is quite well known throughout the two cities, this building, which was formerly a weave shed, has been completely changed over. On the lower floor is a fully equipped gymnasium with lockers, shower baths, and all the apparatus that goes with good training quarters. The main hall contains a fine dancing surface. A stage is set at one end and a raised platform for music is placed at the middle of the floor.

All that is asked of those using the hall is cooperation with Director Travers in keeping the floor and wall neat and clean and leaving the building in a presentable condition.

A list of those who have taken advantage of the privilege afforded through the generosity of Agent Whitehead and the Social and Athletic Club, with dates as recorded by Club Secretary Gladys Hamel, is given below.

We join in extending our sympathy to Charles Dearborn, whose wife died recently at the Trull Hospital.

The many friends of Mrs. Anna Pelletier were greatly saddened to read of her death at the Webber hospital. The sympathy of the entire plant goes out to her family and relatives.

The death of Albert Hamel, son of President Amedee Hamel of the Social and Athletic Club, brought profound grief throughout the mill. A young man, just on the threshold of life, Albert Hamel was a picture of youth and energy, and we can realize, to some extent, the sorrow which has come to his home.

Social and Athletic Club Notes

By GLADYS HAMEL, Sec'y.

In the death of Albert, son of President Amedee Hamel, the Pepperell Social and Athletic Club has lost a good and active member. We, who associated with him daily, appreciate the unusual qualities which he possessed, and his smile will be missed by his many friends.

We shall always feel better for having known him. Our respect and heartfelt sympathy is extended to his family.

New Colored Sheets Make Hit

The new line of colored sheets and pillow cases is going strong all over the country. It has become quite the style to have at least two pairs of these beautiful sheets and cases on hand for the summer guests who are apt to drop in at any time. The five beautiful colors of blue, maize, nile green, orchid and shell pink provide variety to suit the rooms and color schemes of the most exacting and fastidious.

Mill Inspected

A party of twelve business men and bankers from New York, New Bedford and Boston, and about fifteen Biddeford (Maine), men made an inspection of the Biddeford plant of the Pepperell recently, and were taken down river for a clambake at Fort Hill. The party was arranged by Treasurer Russell H. Leonard of the Pepperell. The party of out-of-town guests was made up as follows: Prof. Arthur S. Dewing, Harvard University; C. R. Berrien, vice president, Central Union Trust Company, New York; Howard Cande, capitalist, New York City; Oliver R. Sawyer, capitalist, New York City; Charles Moser, chief, Far Eastern Division, U. S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C.; Charles S. Kelley, Jr., of the firm of Sanford & Kelley, New Bedford, Mass.; also Brackett Parsons, manager of Lowell, Mass., division of the Pepperell; Gilbert Harrison, general manager of the Lewiston Bleachery; Donald B. Tansill, Pepperell, general sales manager; Allyn B. MacIntyre, manager, sales promotion department of the Pepperell. The following day the party visited the Lewiston Bleachery, which is owned by the Pepperell Manufacturing Company.

Redecorating Sign Boards

The fine painting job that Mr. John Pare is doing on the advertising boards is exciting much favorable comment on the street. The delicate shades used in advertising the new line of colored sheets calls for careful work and only a master at the art can bring out the detail of the lettering and insignia which are being used. The Lincoln Street sign is already finished as is the one on the roof of the Social and Athletic Club building, and as we go to press the sign at the top of York Hill is being prepared for the new designs.

Dizzy Doings

The pencil has made pointed remarks about the Sponge being soaked all day and the Waste Basket being full. The Scissors are cutting up and the Paper Weight is trying to hold them down, while the Paste is sticking around to see the Stamps get a licking. The Ink's well, but appears to be blue, while Bill is stuck on the file, and the Calendar is looking fresher after having had a month off. The Blotter is lying around, taking it all in.—The Safety Belt.

AN OMISSION

In the caption under the group picture of the children, taken at the recent safety meeting, the name of Mrs. Precourt was inadvertently omitted. Mrs. Precourt stands at the Mayor's right in the photo, and is greatly interested in the children and meetings of this nature in particular. We also note that the little girl at the mayor's left hand is his daughter Rachelle.

George Moulen, Tom Fildes and George Miles, (three in foreground) are on a fishing expedition on the tug "Prentiss." The picture was taken last summer.

BASEBALL

The Pepeprell management is making a big drive for some swell baseball teams to come to Biddeford and tackle the Pepperell outfit at Prospect Park. Many of the teams have been dated up for a few weeks, but it is hoped to land some from now on for Saturday afternoons.

The Pepperell team is looking better every time they play, and in Harold Harwood, the young man from the South, they have landed a sweet ball swatter. He is a classy pitcher once he gets going and Pepperell will be well fortified with Joe Vachon and Ted Shevenell in the line of twirlers.

In the two games with the All-Stars of Sanford early in the season, Pepperell was defeated by close margins. The Pepperell boys were victorious in their game with Kennebunk at Prospect Park, June 30, the final score being 6 to 5. "Sully" Emery was the big hero of the day, coming across with a crackerjack of a two-bagger in the tenth inning, which scored the winning run.

Tuesday evening, July 10, Pepperell went to Kennebunk and played a return game with the Kennebunk town team. It was a regular walkover for our boys, winning by a 13 to 2 score and finding the Bunkies much softer than in the 10-inning game in this city two weeks ago.

Ted Shevenell, pitching for the Pepperell, was too strong for the Kennebunk team, holding them to five scattered hits and allowing but one hit up to the sixth inning. Ted pitched a wonderful game.

Shevenell struck out nine batters and was never in trouble. Kennebunk used two pitchers, Brown starting the game and being relieved by Leach. The two pitchers were found for 13 hits, one of them a triple by Cote, and doubles by Bouthot and Staples. Harwood, Pepperell pitcher, who played right field in the game, connected for a home run.

Binette led the Pepperell attack with three safeties, and "Sully" Emery, Staples and Captain Jimmy Hickey turned two each. None of the Kennebunk players was able to hit safely more than once.

The Pepperell boys played strong ball, but one error being made, while the Kennebunk team was charged with seven misplays.

ALBERT HAMEL

The death of Albert Hamel, son of Police Commissioner and Mrs. Amedee Hamel, caused much sorrow among the members of the Pepperell baseball team and managers, as well as to other friends in the mill. He had been a member of the Pepperell team for the past three years and was one of the outstanding stars of the team, playing shortstop. One of the leading baseball coaches said that for a youngster without experience he covered a great deal of ground and was a player of much promise.

Mr. Hamel was also greatly interested in other sports, although his favorite sport was baseball.

He was the only son of Police Commissioner Hamel, who is also president of the Peperell Social and Athletic Club.

Baseball Notes

The Pepperell team loses two valuable players in Syl. Kelley, who has gone to Detroit, and Albert Hamel, who died at the Maine General Hospital, Portland. Both boys have been big assets to the team since it was organized.

"Sully" Emery, the former Biddeford high star, is playing shortstop and filling the position well. He is a fine ball player.

Bouthot, another Biddeford high star, is covering third base in place of Kelley, and in the game with the Kennebunk town team at Kennebunk he showed up well in his first appearance. Bouthot has the makings of a sweet ball player.

Manager George Moulen is all set now that the June primaries are over.

It is a cure for sore eyes to see Jimmy Hickey, our beloved captain and genial first baseman, back on duty once more. The return of Captain Hickey will go a long way towards strengthening the team. He is the right boy in the right place.

"Sully" Emery's hit in the tenth inning in the game with Kennebunk, Saturday, June 30, was a corker.

Harry Cavanaugh, general manager of the lunch carts, feels the small crowds as well as the players. He said he could not live on what he has made at the games so far this season.

Pecker Martin in Draw

Pecker Martin, one of the stars of the Pepperell boxing club, added much to his reputation Tuesday evening, July 10, when he clashed with Art Giroux of Montreal and stablemate of George Chabot, in the semi-final at the Exposition building, Portland. It was one good draw, according to well-informed men who sat near the ring and kept close tabs on the work of the two men.

In the fourth Martin got one of those famous swings home and Giroux slowed slightly, still leading on points.

In the fifth, Martin, who had been swinging and missing, and failing to drag another swing along as a follow up, began shooting his roundhouse curves two at a time. Two or three found their mark, and Giroux hopped on his bicycle and contended himself with fending off Martin's advances. Beaten to the punch, Pecker never stopped wading in, and when the fifth was through he had gained an edge for the round, having Giroux doubled up twice from rights to the body.

Giroux fought flashily, speedily, and threw all manner of punches in the final round, but he couldn't keep Pecker from coming in. Martin flung rights and lefts in a desperate effort to land the finishing blow and made life miserable for the Canadian Flash in those following moments at the finish.

Wake Up, Fans

Despite the fact that the Pepperell is giving the fans good baseball and at the low price of 25 cents, they are not turning out as they should. In the opening game, with a parade headed by the Pepperell band, there were 232 paid admissions, totalling $58. The expenditures were $25, so that the ball players had very little for their services.

With the fans backing them, the management will bring the South Portland team with Harry Lord, manager, to this city. It takes money to get them here.

There is a possibility that the Portland New England team may be brought to Prospect Park for a game. Fans, get busy, and make it interesting for the Pepperell players and encourage them to play the best teams.

If you worked in the Machine Shop you'd recognize Joe Proulx, Donat Morresette and William Fenderson. We wouldn't be surprised if Billy could hold up his end of an argument.

Only the "old timers" who read this sheet can recall the time when we were reading daily of the exploits of "The Rough Riders" at San Juan Hill and Santiago under their young leader, Colonel Roosevelt. That was way back when the barber shops showed an imposing array of individual shaving mugs with a gaudy design and the owner's initials thereon. It was our ambition then to grow up soon so that we too could own a cup and have it on public display! I believe it was that summer that we went up to Portland and rented a tandem bicycle at two dollars per day and we sure were popular with the Pepperell girls for those two days! I remember one of the girls got a flock of petticoats caught in the chain and I had to walk down the road a ways and keep my back turned while she got untangled. I recall that I stepped behind a tree and sneaked a drag on a Sweet Caporal cigarette—I was so nervous. That, dear, Reader—was a long time ago, and that was the time when Warren Fuller started to work with us—twenty-eight years ago.

The remarkable thing about Warren's record with us is that during all of these twenty-eight years he has never lost time on account of injury. When we asked him to pose for this picture do you wonder that he smiled when thinking of the many times he had fooled Old Man Accident.

After Warren had been on the job for eight years along came Fred Grace and Max Libby who started out to beat his record of no lost time accident in eight years. And these two other enemies of Carelessness have gone along safely for twenty years! You can see from the photo that Fred believes that "Safety" is only another way to spell Common Sense and Max has just said, "Sure, no one needs to get hurt in our plant if he uses his head."

Our plant is well guarded with mechanical guards, but remember that the most important guard, as Max says, is between your ears. In other words, no plant can be made absolutely accident proof with guards of wood and steel—each of us must also guard himself and that is what we mean when we say that a fellow worker is "careful"—he is guarding himself, he is working safely.

In looking over our accident reports recently I counted a dozen ways in which we get hurt through carelessness on our part, accident causes that we cannot build guards for, but causes that can be eliminated by carefulness on the part of the individual worker.

These three men represent 68 safe working years. Every day they might have been injured in any one of a dozen ways if they had not been careful. Just figure out what that means. Assuming that they worked 300 days in each year you have 300 x 68 x 12 equals 244,800 chances of getting hurt that they avoided by using that "guard between the ears," they used their heads.

They have proved that accidents do not need to happen in our Pepperell plants. Accidents are old-fashioned, they belong back in the days of the shaving mug and the tandem bicycle. This is the day of the radio, no accidents, and colored bed sheets. Let's be up to date.

Accident Chart

The first half of 1928 is over and the three divisions stand, or rather, are passing the half-way mark in their contest to determine which of the three can maintain the best safety record for the year. The figures shown above in the chart are simply the months' records as they come and it will probably be of interest to figure up the relative standing at the end of June.

The frequencies for the first half show:

Biddeford 3.4
Lowell 3.9
Lewiston 4.3

Biddeford hs been coming along in fine style after a slow start in January and February, and leads by a narrow margin. Lowell has bettered their last year's average at this point, and we believe has a sprint that they are holding in reserve for the second half of the race.

Last year's winners are in the rear, but not so far that they can be considered out of it.

A lot of things can happpen before January 1st, and to date it's still anybody's race. The time is ripe to uncork that sprint you've been holding back. Already, everybody, let's travel.

Our Own Accidents

We are inclined to believe that when Plato, or was it Aristotle? commented on the fact that in the Spring a young person's fancy turns to thoughts of love, he did not tell half the story. If he were here with us today we might give him an assignment of determining where the thoughts of two of our fair young employees were recently when they rushed out of the mill after working hours in such haste that one of them failed to note that a set of stairs had been placed in the mill for the purpose of descending from the second floor to the street and, forgetting that she was not a Col. Lindbergh, sailed through the air, landing with much force on the above-mentioned street, causing a rather severe injury to the right wrist and left knee.

The other employee, he might tell us, had visions of an evening joy ride in the back seat of the conventional flivver, and in her haste to arrive at her Romeo's side she failed to see a very necessary water hydrant in the centre of the yard and came in violent contact with same, nearly removing it from its position, injuring her personal feelings and limbs to such an extent that it will be necessary for her to stay away from green fields and joy rides, work and everything else for a matter of some weeks. These two accidents were the first two of the month and happened after the mill had gone for nearly a full month without any lost time.

Two other accidents for the month show first an employee of the carding room trying to remove cotton from the feed roll, and, finding the machine too fast for him, nearly lost the end of his finger in the act. All of us know that the cards have played this same trick on other employees and usually come out best in affairs of this kind. The safety committee tells us that the best way to remove a piece of cotton from a feed roll with your finger is to use a stick.

An employee in the storehouse has discovered that the cases used for storing cotton are made of a much harder material than his hands are and consequently the next time two of these cases come in contact with each other his hand will not be between them, as it was recently when he jammed his left hand badly, causing him to lose quite a few weeks' time.

Well, we are not trying to wrest any honors from the Greek philosophers, but we feel called upon to express the thought that you can't do a first class job at whatever you're trying to do—even if it is making love in the Springtime—if your mind is on something else. There certainly would be fewer accidents in our divisions if while we're on the job—we'd keep the mind there too.

Jack Delaney May Box at Old Orchard

Promoter "Tex" Travers of local fistic circles is dickering for the service of Jack Delaney at one of the shows to be held at Old Orchard this summer. Local fans will flock to the beach in large numbers to witness the strong boy in action.

It is hoped that the first show of the season will be held the latter part of this month. A special attraction is afforded this year in the way of reduced prices. Top price this year will be $1.00, and 75 cent and 50 cent seats will be available in good numbers. No tax is required this year for tickets priced as above.

HEARD ABOUT THE PLANT

ENGINEERING NOTES

By ELLERY BRYANT.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyndall Bowie and family enjoyed the vacation period in the mountains.

Peter Wilson took in the Finnegan-Fuller bout held at Boston the second of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hall and family motored to Canada the second and returned the eighth.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Johnson and daughter Elaine attended the dedication of the new bridge at Bath.

Many of the more ambitious craftsmen in the engineering department have taken up extra work in the evenings and on Saturday afternoons. Carl Hall, for example, is giving automobile instruction, and is confining his attention to the driving end of the game. Carl has many pupils, and is partial to the female of the species. He guarantees to take 'em out and bring 'em back. Male candidates with proper credentials will be given due consideration.

Was asked the other day why we kept riding "Al" Hill and Carl Hall. All right, if you want to know, just listen: Both are good fellows and each in an entirely different way. "Al," as foreman of the pipe shop, has an unusually even disposition, has the respect of every man working for him and appreciates a good clean joke, even if the joke happens to be on "Al." Bozo is of a somewhat different character, always good-natured, ready to swap a story, or what have you, a good man if left to his own opinion, and an extremely disagreeable one if opposed. Just to demonstrate that we are not going to ride these two popular men any more, we want to state that we passed the Hudson on the Alfred road with a 1917 Ford, arrived at Sanford, had a lunch and were just starting out as Al came along. As for "Bozo," whom most of you know as the Irish Tenor, would say that some startling disclosures will be made if he is not careful of where and how he drives that Pontiac.

The engineering department of this vast corporation was again honored when Gene Lavigne of the electrical shop was chosen as chairman of one of the various committees connected with the visit of the Mayor of Bideford, England.

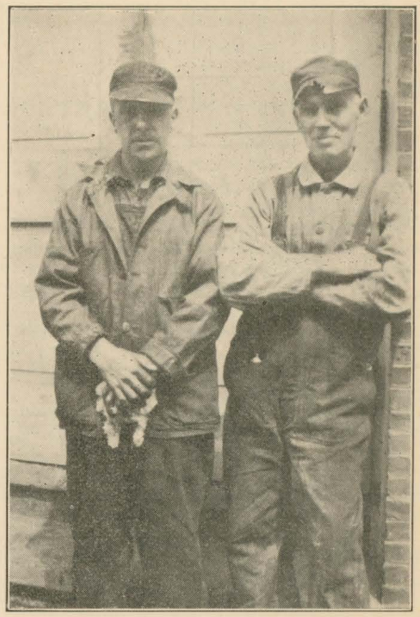
Mr. John Pare is doing an excellent job at redecorating the advertising boards belonging to the Pepperell. Each year John seems to do a more artistic piece of work. The only thing missing this season is the silk topper, but John has just returned from Providence, R. I., and probably could not stand the extra weight.

Things that endure: That famous Hudson; Carl Hall's tenor; Stafford's religion; Allie Staples' wind; Boyd's alibis; Fon York's dog medicine; Charlie Benjamin's youth; Lavigne's luck; Jim Smith's courage; Father Time.

Ralph Smith, second hand in the machine shop, is again assisting Mr. Grace after suffering the loss of his index finger on the right hand. Glad to see you with us again, Ralph.

Mr. James Smith, electrician, is seriously contemplating the scientific study of pigs, and how to keep them clean. All Jim needs is a proper field for his researches.

The chance taker is the accident maker.



John Watson, our gear man, and Henry Smith look real business-like. We propose that the Machine Shop crew "chip in" and buy Henry a new rim for his cap.

Emilia Doyon is ill at her home on Emery Street. We hope she will soon be well and back with us.

Miss Blanche Grenier of this department has returned from a trip to Canada. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. G. Grenier. Both visited Montreal, Quebec, Sherbrooke, and Ste. Anne de Beaupre. They also attended the graduation of Miss Laura Grenier, a sister, who made her study in the Convent of the Presentation of Mary at Saint Hyacinth.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Gagne have returned from their honeymoon. Mrs. Gagne was before her marriage Miss Enertine Bosse. We are very glad to see you again, Enertine.

One of our girls went into a drug store the other day and purchased a jar of vanishing cream. After faithfully using it on her feet each night for two weeks she found that they were as large as ever. No, we won't tell you who she is.

Miss Anne Dineen has resumed her work after a month's sickness with tonsilitis. We are glad to see you back, Anne.

ROOM 55 B

Joe McWhirter is very obliging. He entertained John Galvin's famous dog, "Spike," over the Fourth while the owner was visiting in Massachusetts.

Mabel Janelle has one fault, and she admits it. She does not distinguish Wednesday from Thursday. Room 55 B gets paid on Thursday and Mabel is sure to come in on Wednesdays.

Pauline Trembley spent the vacation week visiting in Hartford, Conn., and New York, and reports a wonderful time. She made the trip, to put it in her own words, "in her darling little Ford."

Our two former section hands, Mr. Belanger and Mr. Labbe are claiming big seasons on their farms. Let's hope so.

All in Room 55 B extend sympathy to Mrs. Leda Grenier in the death of her beloved mother in June.

By Y. LAMIRANDE

Wonder why A. Wilson is so interested in bathing beauties?

Now that Alphonse Fortin has a machine we see him with a different girl every night. Wonder when my turn will be?

A. St. Pierre is in training for an early marriage. If you want to learn his system he'll gladly tell you all about it.

NOTES FROM HERE AND THERE

William Roed of the yard department was out on account of sickness on July 10th.

Mr. Cox of the designing room has moved to Summer Street, Saco.

Miss Martha Curley, R. N., of the First Aid room, recently visited her home town at Somersworth, N. H.

Pete Wilson spent a week visiting in Boston and Lawrence, and is now entertaining his brother John of New York.

Ask Chubby Emerson how the trawl got tangled up in the propeller of his boat. It's a corking story.

UNDER THE DRAGON'S EYE

Sully: "Every bone in my body aches."

Bessie: "You must have a terrible headache."

Eddie: "Do your shoes hurt?"

Jack Lee: "No, but my feet do."

Al had wired his wife that he would be home Friday night. At midnight he hadn't shown up. His wife became nervous and wired four hotels asking if Al was staying there.

At about six in the morning Al came home, clothes wet and muddy, having had to change tires and fix several punctures. Shortly afterward telegrams began to come in. They all read, "Yes; Al is staying here tonight."

Dotty—I fell last night and struck my head on the piano.

Fred—Gracious, dear! Did you hurt yourself?

Dotty—No. I hit the soft pedal.

"Who is that brunette over there?"

"That's Ray's wife, don't you recognize her?"

"Why, I thought he married a blonde."

"Oh, yes, he did—but she dyed."

Disturbed Customer: "The shoes you sold me haven't any tongues."

Salesman (affably): "Well, you said you liked to dress as quietly as possible."

A policeman came up to Harley Johnson and said: "Say, don't you see the sign, 'Fine for parking'?"

Oh, yes, sir, I was just taking advantage of it!"

Frank: "How do you get so many girls?"

Roland: "Oh, I just sprinkle a little gasoline on my handkerchief."

Milligan: "If I be afther lavin' security equal to what I take away, will yez trust me till next week?"

Grocer: "Certainly."

Milligan: "Will, thin, sell me two av thim hams, and kape wan ave thim till I come again."

Sorry

Through an error a line was omitted from the picture of some of the cloth hall girls which appeared in the June number. The line beginning "The once Miss Watson is now"—should have been followed with—"Mrs. Fred Grace."

Mayor Precourt in Attendance at Organization of Pepperell Kiddie Klub

On Saturday afternoon, June 23, the Pepperell Kiddie Klub was organized at the Social and Athletic Club hall on Main Street. Nearly 1,400 children, ranging from three to fifteen years of age, were in attendance, and an enthusiastic meeting resulted.

The object of the meeting was to impress upon the children of the two cities the need of great care when crossing the streets. The automobile has created a situation which calls for caution on the part of the adult, and children in particular.

At two o'clock the children began to arrive and were registered as they entered the hall. The registration was in charge of Miss Gladys Hamel, assisted by Laura Belanger, Yvette Carrier, Irene Gaudette, Anna Rouillard and Alice Petit. The work of these young ladies was much appreciated.

To keep things interesting for the first part of the program, the children were given a band concert by the Pepperell Band, under the direction of Joseph Martin of the cloth room. The club is particularly grateful to these musicians, who volunteered their services on this occasion. The Kiddies certainly enjoyed the music.

President Amedee Hamel presided at the meeting and called upon Mr. Frank Vennett, manager of the Central Theater, for a safety talk. Mr. Vennett is a fine speaker and knows just how to talk to the children. His remarks were closely followed and when he gave the children the pledge there was real enthusiasm. They held up their right hands and repeated the following pledge after Mr. Vennett: "Because I know of the great danger to me when crossing the street, I hold up my right hand and promise that I will look twice before I cross the street." They then put on their Kiddie Klub buttons, which were inscribed: "I've promised to look twice before I cross the street." The button also carries a cartoon of a boy and girl and a little dog in the act of taking the pledge to be careful.

Mayor Precourt then arrived at the hall and gave the children a fine talk. He was cheered lustily by the youngsters and laughingly acknowlelged Joe Martin's band selection, "Hail, hail, the gang's all here!"

As the children left the hall they were given a package of "Fro-Joy" ice cream, donated by the Social and Athletic Club with the cooperation of Mr. Haley of the General Ice Cream Company.

Group pictures were taken by Louis A. Daignault, Washington Street photographer.

The cooperation of the Biddeford Journal was greatly appreciated in the week's campaign preceding the meeting. The endorsements of public officials, including that of Mayor Precourt and service clubs, was of much help in creating an atmosphere for safety.

Notes on the Meeting

The work of the police department was certainly fine. On the occasion when Mr. Vennett accidentally let the words "Ice Cream" slip out we were fearful for the lives of the officers as the kids came charging to the rear of the hall.

The expense of the Kiddie Klub buttons was assumed by the mill. When Mr. Whitehead was approached regarding the campaign he was at once in favor of it. "If this safety program for the children is the means of preventing a single accident it will have been well worth while," was a summary of what he said.

Harry Cavanaugh had a busy afternoon. Harry says that kids can ask more questions in five minutes thn he could think up in a life-time.

Some of the girls at the registration tables got writers' cramps because of the speed with which the kids came into the hall.

The Kiddie Klub safety meeting was enthusiastic. In the front center we see Mayor Geo

The Happy Eight

The Happy Eight enjoyed its first outing of the season on Saturday and Sunday, June 16 and 17 at the Crowley camp on Lake Cobbosseecontee.

The boys got away early Saturday afternoon, making the trip to camp in record time. On arriving each busied himself with his own special duties so that in a very short time all baggage and provisions were safely unloaded and the boys set for their good time.

During the afternoon water sports were enjoyed with the winners as follows: Hundred Yard Swim, Tom Conley; High Dive, Bill Driscoll; Most Graceful Dive, Henry Fahey; Three-legged swim, Doc Ricker and Tom Meehan. As the last contest was under way supper was announced and the gang made a bee line for the camp where Chef Harry Walker presented the following line-up: Baked beans, frankforts, cold meats, brown bread, rolls, coffee and doughnuts, ice cream.

After supper the party explored the neighboring countryside until dark when they returned to camp and enjoyed a good old-fashioned sing with Henry Fahey at the piano. The boys were in fine voice and their harmony floated across the lake to delight (?) other cottagers.

The Sunday morning breakfast consisted of Iced Canteloupe, Bacon and Eggs, German potatoes and bread and coffee. Harry Walker certainly knows his groceries and how to prepare them. The boys waded through this repast, leaving not a morsel. When the dishes were neatly washed and dried, under the direction of Tom Conley, fishing equipment was made ready and the ardent disciples of Isaak Walton sailed forth in quest of the denizens of Cobbosseecontee.

The boys made a good haul which was turned over to Chef Walker and his assistant, Elmer Griffin, who transformed it into a most luscious dish. When the dinner bell sounded the gang found waiting them the following menu: Tomato Bisque, Fried Fish, Sirloin Steak, Mashed Potatoes, Creamed Peas, Tartar Sauce, Rolls, Pie and Coffee. After this meal was put out of the way preparations were made for the return trip.

In the party were Elmer Griffin, Tom Conley, Henry Fahey, Bill Driscoll, Tom Meehan, Doc. Ricker and Harry Walker. Steve Crowley and Tom Burke joined them for a while on Sunday and took an active part in the festivities.

MACHINE SHOP NOTES

Joseph Lacoursiere recently took a trip of Quebec and vicinity. Joe says that it was by the way of Detour.

"Shorty" Carlo was seen recently sitting in a car which was on the end of a rope and behind another car. Shorty wasn't being "towed in," however. They were just seeing how much the other car could pull. (So he claims.)

Jerry Coughlin, while riding joyously through the wilds of Canada, was rudely stopped by a man on a motorcycle and ten dollars taken from him. You have to be careful when you are "in a hurry" up there. Anything over thirty per, so folks say, makes a hollow place in the pocketbook.

"Red" Lemieux recently took his wife to a baseball game. It is reported that she knows now why Lemieux is so hoarse sometimes. It is also reported that she "never saw a person act so in all her life."

A certain person went to Cundy's Harbor for clams. He got the clams and some lemonade, too. That wasn't all he got, but the doctor was able to save him.

Fred White was present recently in Auburn, when an aviator turned over in landing. Fred, by his cool appearance and actions, averted a panic and other things. Fred hasn't received a Carnegie medal yet, but of course such things are always delayed in the mail.

WHITE FOLDING ROOM

Gilberte Martin journeyed to Lakewood on July 4th where she visited the theatrical colony.

Paul Beauchene will spend his vacation at Taylor Pond. He has just completed a bungalow there which is a beauty.

Paul Lavigne has been working out with the Bleachery baseball squad and has picked up many little tricks of the trade from the leaguers.

Bernice Brochu visited Lake Sabatis on July Fourth and delighted the on-lookers with a series of fancy dives.

Jennie Martin has returned from a vacation spent with relatives in Canada. She was very generous with her post cards.

Roland Lacombe and Roland Bouchard are seen each evening cruising about the two cities in Bouchard's racer, the Gray Ghost.

Adele Ward has returned from her vacation, which was spent at South Harpswell .

Wilfred Royer has been one of the stars of the Bleachery baseball team. His hitting has been especially good and his playing around second base could hardly be improved on.

Toby Joyce was seen tossing a baseball around recently. It would not be surprising to see him stage a comeback as he looked pretty good in practice.

Marty Norton attended the July Fourth celebration at Buckfield. He took part in several athletic events and brought home several fine prizes.

PACKING ROOM PICK UPS

We were glad to welcome George Thompson back to our department after an illness of several weeks.

Cards have been received from Ernie Parkins, who has settled in Sunny California. Ernie likes the country and has started to accumulate a fortune.

Ovilla Goyette will spend his vacation at Lard Pond. He claims that none of the small fry will be found there.

Leo Bernier recently entertained the members of the Cercle Canadien with an account of his experiences in the Big Woods.

Joe Cronin has been playing a great game at short stop for the Bleachery nine which gives the lie to the old adage, "Youth must be served."

John Finn has been appointed a life guard at the City Park swimming pool and has already made several thrilling rescues.

Doc Ricker delivered a stirring address on the evils of Liquor at a recent meeting of the Litchfield Lions.

Henry Fahey has one of the finest kennels in the East and always has several fine specimens of dog flesh on hand.

GREY ROOM GOSSIP

Fred Barbour enjoyed a delightful vacation at Buckley's Beach during the week of July 4th. He visited all of the attractions at this well known resort and spent a considerable amount of money.

Judging by the brand of ball that Pete Pelletier has been twirling for the Bleachery ball club he must have been getting some points from Frank Shufeldt. Frank was one of our leading pitchers a few years back.

Ludger Garneau enjoyed a shore dinner at South Harpswell on July 4th.

Francis King brought back a fine mess of fish from the Belgrade Lakes recently. He was very generous with his catch and his friends enjoyed several fish dinners.

The wife of a careless man is almost a widow.

NAPPING ROOM

Bill Leger has been accused by his father of buying the fish which he brings back from his numerous trips to nearby lakes. Bill recently took his father along to show him how he made such beautiful catches and not a fish was seen all day.

Louis Bosse will spend his vacation at Island Park where he will enjoy the strains of the jazz musicians.

Emile Morin has returned from a visit to West Paris, where he spent his vacation.

Oscar Wessenger, whose brilliant playing of third base has been a great factor in the climb of the Bleachery team, has received offers from East Bedsprings and South Windham which he is seriously considering.

Arthur St. Pierre spent a recent Sunday at Lake Sabatis, where he reviewed the newest styles in bathing suits.

Ernest Giroux attended the July Fourth ball game at Portland and was very much pleased at the brand of baseball displayed.

FRAME ROOM

Tom Driscoll attended the auto races at Salem, N. H., on July 4th, where he received quite a thrill.

Tony Pleakie has gone into seclusion for the summer as he is working on several new wrestling holds which he is anxious to perfect before the fall season.

Niel Conley has a wonderful camp at Lake Sabatis where members of the sporting fraternity can always be found.

Jim Donovan umpired a recent ball game between the Gas House Stars and the Skunk Hill Warriors. Jim says "Never Again."

Billy Middleton has returned from a visit to Halifax, N. S., where he called on relatives and friends.

AROUND THE YARD

Pete Sullivan has returned from his vacation in Boston, where he took in ball games, boxing and wrestling matches, bicycle races and what not. He spent a delightful week along Washington Street. It is rumored that his finances were extremely low at the end of the week as he called Tom Lonergan on the phone to ask the latter to drive him home—and he reversed the phone charges.

Teddy Bonneau has been made an assistont to Lou Driscoll on one of the trucks and is proving to be a very clever handler of bales.

Fred Chandler spent the Fourth at Beals Tavern, where he provided a shady spot for a few residents of Norway.

Tim Driscoll looks as spry as ever out on the baseball field.

STOREHOUSE TRUCKS

Jack Paradis has promised to wear his fireman's helmet at the next parade in this city.

Gideon Beaulieu spent July Fourth at Lake Grove where he communed with nature. He checked his trusty bicycle at the Grange Hall.

Al McClure visited Rumford on July Fourth as a member of the St. Dominique Band. Al did his share to make it a noisy Fourth.

Mike Walsh was a delegate to the recent Shifters Convention held at Owl's Head and reports a grand time.

Joe Godbout will sing a baritone solo at the Firemen's Muster to be held at New Sharon on Labor Day.

Con Cadigan is a great rooter for the Lewiston-Auburn baseball team and never misses a game.

BOX SHOP SHAVINGS

Tim O'Leary gave a violin recital at Pine Point on July 3rd, which was well received by the Pine Pointers.

Anthony Cormier has returned from his vacation which was spent at Great Diamond Island. He enjoyed himself immensely and is already looking forward to his next year's vacation.

Babe Renaud journeyed to Rumford on July Fourth, where he was the guest of friends.

Johnny Coughlin has closed his roadside stand and will now devote all of his spare time to the raising of corned beef and cabbage.

On Saturday, June 23, the Bleachery met the much touted Ault-Williamson aggregation and killed the latter's chances of grabbing the pennant in the Industrial League. The Ault outfit was favored to win by the dopesters, but our boys found them fairly easy pickings. Royer collected three triples and Tim Driscoll showed that he still has his batting eye by poking out three bingles.

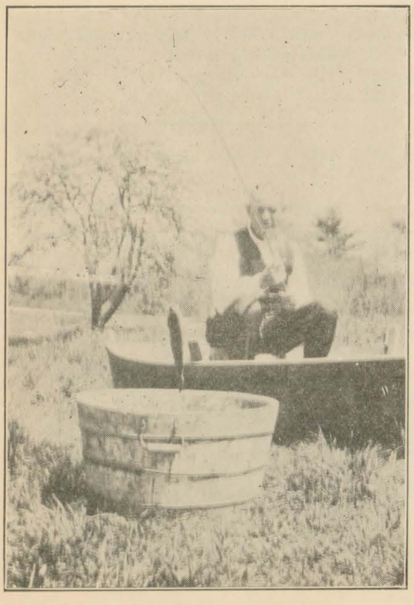
The contributions to the Sheet this month were not very numerous.

I suppose that every one of us was so busy with the final stock-taking and other incidentals, which never seem to be quite finished, that the little items and the pictures were altogether forgotten or else had to be sidetracked to finish the regular work

As the girl in the funny paper says: "I didn't do nothing, but I won't do it again," so let us all resolve to put something in the next issue. An item of news about your chum's vacation or a little joke, that will amuse, but leave no sting; a picture of your trip to the seashore or a funny drawing of some peculiar or uncommon experience, all of which you may have had or seen. All these suggestions are actually happening every day and you can easily make them up into readable and enjoyable articles for you and your friend to see.

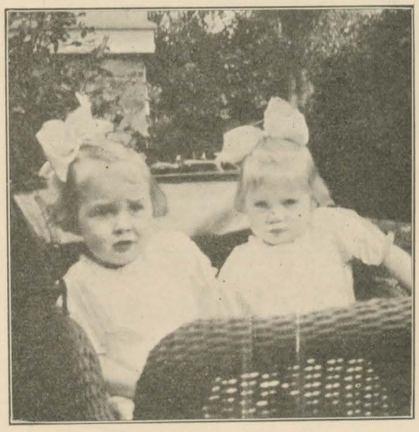


Not the hero of the old nursery rhyme, but "Mal" himself in a serious mood.

After stock-taking, we are to come back to work, and let all of us boost the Pepperell Sheet and see if we can get up a real paper for the next issue.

L. S. S., "The Editor"

Being a shrinking violet by nature, we have added his official title after his initials. Don't forget to look at the pictures in this month's issue for the feeble likeness of the Editor himself in one of his many unconscious moments.



This picture was taken B. P. (Before Prohibition), and shows the Sturtevant twins when they were youngsters. Their pictures, at the age of 16, recently appeared in the Sheet.

CARD ROOM ITEMS

Our orchestra leader says that he is very fond of music. The more flat the music is the better he likes it. He should be a good bowler, the alleys are very flat

The other night while he was listening to his radio, he noticed something unusual. The announcer will say "good night," and they'll start playing music. He had everything backward, so he asked our help about this matter.

See if the tubes are upside down, maybe you have the lead in from the aerial at the wrong end. Also look at the switch to see if it isn't in reverse. Try these things and let us know how you come out.

"You ought to have a job with a strong man on a vaudeville stage."

"Why?"

"Because you're a dumbbell."

Arthur spent an enjoyable evening at the airport opening. He was telling me that the only thing that kept him on the ground was five dollars.

Jim still pins his faith on an apple a day to insure his good complexion.

We would all like to know how Frank's golf is coming along.

It is rumored that Joe has quite a lovely flower garden this year.

Silent J. Cuddihy must have a fine time keeping up with Long Bill R.

Tom McK. is being urged to take his troupe on the stage. It is a great trio:—The Walking Shadow, The Climbing Post and The Living Skeleton.

OFFICE NOTES

Our Earl certainly has IT. More than one of the men around here have remarked about his popularity. Why not put a few of them in circulation, and give the other fellow a chance.

We understand that Mr. Atwood, our chemist, is on the road to recovery. We all wish him the speediest possible recovery.

There is one member of the office force that takes in all the graduation exercises for miles around. We understand that she has gone to three in concussion.

Hazel's Buddy it at home again and is apparently as husky as he ever was.

We know some one that has donations of ice cream on hot days and after it has been completely disposed of tells her friends (? ? ? ?) all about it.

There have been three new hats hung up in various parts of the office. Two of them we very much approve of, but the third of this group—* * * * *

SHOP NOTES

Radio Sam and Sailor Moore, known as "Start" and "Stop," will leave their cage for the woods the first week in July.

Brad Messer has got himself a new set of uppers. They will last longer if you take them out at meal time, "Brad."

Charlie Richards nearly got caught working the other day. He was only looking for the hammer, though. It had lain on the bench for so long a time that the vibration had finally caused it to fall on the floor. Charlie woke up and missed it, therefore he was in motion when the boss came around.

Eddie Brown and Jigger have decided to reopen their old stand, and start in papering back rooms during the week we are out.

I see Dave Thomas has submitted to another hair cut. Dave gets his hair cut twice a year whether it needs it or not.

Jack King and his family spent the week of July 1st at the beach, and that's not all he spent.

Charlie Boutilier has gone to Maine on a two weeks' fishing trip. Lucky dog.

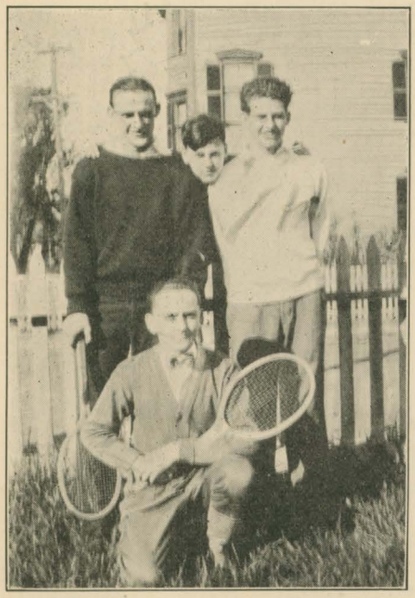
CLOTH ROOM

After beating all tennis players this side of the Atlantic, the quartet shown in the picture, together with Messrs. Hart and Garvey, are planning to sail for Europe to win more laurels over there.

For Desmarais, Hart and Garvey, commonly known as "The Unholy Three," this trip will be the third ocean trip. Last summer these three enterprising young men took a trip to teach the Fiji Islanders the graceful game of tennis.



As well as being tennis stars, these young men are talented in various ways, Mr. Hart being the possessor of a powerful voice. Although the tone isn't up to standard, the volume is far-reaching. The two Rays have exquisite vocabularies and use them extensively. Their choice of words is not always proper, but very emphatic. May they rest in peace.

That New England has the largest and most complete cotton reference library in the country—about 2,000 volumes having been collected by the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

That the United States Census of Manufacturers for 1925 reveals that the average output per establishment shows greater gains in New England than for the United States as a whole.

The Cape Cod Chamber of Commerce has announced that it will plant 5,000 trees free of charge for any towns on Cape Cod that will establish a town forest of one hundred acres.

I Wonder

It's a wonderful world we're living in
I know you must allow,
I wonder what this world will be
One hundred years from now.

In a sailing ship, my Grandpa said,
He sailed across the sea,
And sixteen weeks it took to reach
This dear land of the free.

The other day a lad set out
And all alone was he
While all above an endless space,
Below the mighty sea.

A day, a night, he rode the winds,
A hero soon to be,
When like a bird from out the blue
He lands in gay Paree,

A bird man and a hero, too,
Does all the world allow.
I wonder what some lad will do
One hundred years from now.

What a wonderful world we're living in
Compared with Grandpa's day
When candles were the only means
At night to light the way.

On horseback and the old stage coach
Was all the speed they knew.
Could they but see what we call speed
I wonder what they would do.

It makes the modern lady smile
To see what Grandma wore,
The bustles and the large hoop skirts
That reached down to the floor.

We'll admit there's quite a difference
In the way they dress today,
With dresses getting shorter
There's more Lady on display.

And so I sit and ponder,
And I wonder, too, somehow,
Will they be getting shorter
One hundred years from now.

It is better to be careful than crippled.

The Seal of Pride

In the olden days when a man was proud of his handiwork, he melted a bit of wax and impressed his mark in the softened material. This mark was his personal seal, and he took care that it appeared only on things worthy of him.

The Lady Pepperell Label is the mark of the Pepperell looms on sheets and pillow cases in which they take pride. For Lady Pepperell sheets and pillow cases are the best efforts of an organization that has devoted many years of high effort to the service of American housewives.

Woven by highly trained craftsmen from selected cotton, you may be sure that the Lady Pepperell label appears only on goods that you will come to prize as much as does the organization that is proud to make them.
